NCCS 152: Introduction to iOS Application Development

This course provides an introduction to iOS device programming utilizing the XCode application, programming languages Objective-C and/or Swift within various iOS frameworks. Students have an opportunity to gain an understanding of iOS hardware and feature basics as they go through the entire design process, from concept to final product delivery.

Satisfactory Progress

Units: 0

Lecture Hours: 48 – 54, Lab Hours: 48 – 54

Prerequisites: NCCS 150
Co-Requisites: None
Advisory: None

Not transferable